

BYOV Quiz Q202404

1. From: BYOV – Diseases - What diet to feed with kidney insufficiency.

What kidney toxin do we monitor to determine the degree of kidney insufficiency?

- a. Potassium
- b. Blood Urea Nitrogen
- c. Phosphorous
- d. Blood Protein

2. From: Pet First Responder – Treating Dogs and Cats – Ear Mites

What is true about ear mites?

- a. They are common in adult dogs.
- b. They can thrive in animals with poor immunity.
- c. The mites are easy to see with the naked eye.
- d. In ears, the debris they leave is usually white.

3. From Pet First Responder – Section 8 – Feline First Aid

What is an aortic thromboembolism?

- a. Damage to the aortic valve in the heart.
- b. A disorder involving the stomach.
- c. A clot in the largest artery in the body.
- d. Severe damage to the kidneys

4. Vaccinology

What is true regarding maternal antibodies?

- a. Any level – high or low - can interfere with vaccines.
- b. The amount steadily rises as the puppy/kitten gets older.
- c. A puppy that receives no colostrum won't have any.
- d. They are transmitted to the fetus through the placenta.

5. COVID Course – Weakness – Splenic Tumor

What is NOT true with a hemangiosarcoma?

- a. They can lose so much blood that they get anemic.
- b. You can sometimes see a large splenic tumor on a radiograph.
- c. It rarely moves to other locations.
- d. It is a disease of large dogs.

6. From: Office Hours Nov 20, 2023 Interpreting Blood Tests

What is true regarding blood tests?

- a. Low calcium causes liver disease.
- b. Hyperglycemia reflects a low blood sugar.
- c. High bilirubin can be seen with immune-mediated hemolytic anemia.
- d. Blood tests have little chance of incorrect results in a normal pet.